is pleased to announce a public lecture on

“The Monotony of Empire”

by

Jeffrey Auerbach

Professor of History
California State University Northridge

Prof. Auerbach is the author most recently of The Great Exhibition of 1851: A Nation on Display (Yale UP, 1999), along with an essay on "Art and Empire" for the five-volume Oxford History of the British Empire (Oxford UP, 1999). He was a Humanities Fellow at Stanford University from 1998-2000, and has also held research fellowships at the Huntington Library, the William Andrews Clark Library, and the Yale Center for British Art. He is currently writing a book about the culture of the nineteenth-century British empire which draws extensively on visual material.
