Time Management Workshop

How to Spend More Time Having Fun!

Presented by Dwight Kelly

We all know that wasting time is bad. But how does one actually go about managing time well and what are the real payoffs? Think more fun and less stress!

This workshop will offer you a series of proven strategies that fellow time-wasters have used to successfully accomplish what they need to, while having more fun and less stress. Come learn strategies, find resources and support other students who are struggling with the same issues you are.
