Requiring demonstrated potential for admission and a high level of accomplishment for graduation, the College provides a diverse student body with opportunities to achieve academically, creatively, and professionally in the liberal arts and sciences and in professional fields, such as engineering, education, architecture, and biomedical education. The College is committed to fostering student-centered education and advancing knowledge through scholarly research. As a public university with public purposes, it also seeks to contribute to the cultural, social, and economic life of New York.

ABOUT THE DIVISION OF HUMANITIES AND THE ARTS

At the City College of New York, the Division of Humanities and the Arts encourages students to expand their experience, find their focus, and pursue their passion.

Its undergraduate students engage in courses that explore the study of Music, Theatre, Film, Literature, Creative Writing, Art, Advertising, Graphic Design, History, Philosophy, Classical and Modern Languages and Literatures, Black Studies, Journalism, Jewish Studies, and Asian Studies at one of the most historic campuses in New York City.

Graduate students connect with diverse faculty who teach courses for specialized programs in Art, Art Education, Museum Studies, Literature, Creative Writing, Language and Literacy, Media Arts Production (film and video), History, Music, Branding and Integrated Communications, and Spanish. After earning their degrees, they pursue careers in publishing, media production, advertising, education, and doctoral programs.

Notable graduates of Humanities and the Arts include Upton Sinclair, author of The Jungle; Oscar Hijuelos, Pulitzer Prize recipient and author of The Mambo Kings; novelist Walter Mosely; acclaimed screenwriter Ernest Lehman; Mario Puzo, author and screenwriter of The Godfather; and actor Luis Guzman.

“Open the doors to all. Let the children of the rich and the poor take their seats together and know of no distinction save that of industry, good conduct, and intellect.”
