

New York, May 3 - 5, 2023

8th International Conference on the Historical Links between Spain and the Americas

Climate Change and Trans-Atlantic Transformations

New York, May 3-5, 2023

Call for Papers

Extended Submission Deadline: January 31st, 2023

Climate change poses the gravest threat to humanity and millions of other species that inhabit planet Earth. Record temperatures and extreme weather events—from hurricanes and flooding to droughts and raging wildfires—and their attendant ecological destruction, loss of life and livelihoods, forced migration within and across borders, and rise of authoritarian populist movements on both sides of the Atlantic urgently require the attention of scholars across all academic disciplines.

The Eighth International Conference on the Historical Links between Spain and the Americas will grapple with the causes, dynamics, and consequences, including for trans-Atlantic relations, of what has now become widely known as an emergency. From colonialism and imperialism to neoliberalism and globalization, asymmetrical relationships and unsustainable consumption patterns are foundational to understanding one of the twenty-first century's most pressing collective action dilemmas. The conference calls for critical consideration of the disproportionate impacts of environmental degradation on vulnerable populations—owing to race, gender, class, or other oppressive social hierarchies.

 The conference welcomes special non-geographically restricted proposals and panels on STEM disciplines focused on climate change.

The City College of New York - Division of Interdisciplinary Studies, the Instituto Cervantes of New York, and the Instituto Franklin of the Universidad de Alcalá join for the eighth year in organizing this conference. The call for papers embraces different disciplines and areas of study, emphasizing interdisciplinary approaches to the connections between Spain and the Americas. As always, the primary aim of the conference is to provide a meeting place for academics and professionals to engage with other participants within and outside their areas of specialization.

The conference is organized in sections with different focal points. The following topics will be prioritized:

- A. Colonial and Postcolonial Studies
- B. Education
- C. Cultural Studies
- D. International Relations

- E. Economy and Labor
- F. Science and Technology
- G. Environmental and Sustainability Studies
- H. Climate change —non-geographically restricted—

Proposals should consist of a title and an abstract of 250-300 words and a brief biography (100-150 words). They must be sent through the conference website. Papers may be in Spanish or English. Submission deadline: December 31st, 2022.

Proposals for panels containing three lectures on the same topic are also welcome.

Lectures will have a maximum duration of 15 minutes organized in panels containing three papers. Participants will receive a certificate of attendance and participation.

Publication: After the conference, the organizing committee will announce the deadline for submitting articles. An editorial committee will evaluate them and those selected will be published in a book.

Individual submissions click here!

Have a proposal for a panel? Click here!

Organizing committee:

- Carlos Aguasaco (CCNY-CUNY)
- Delia Antelo (Instituto Cervantes NY)
- Danielle Zach (CCNY-CUNY)
- Susanna Rosenbaum (CCNY-CUNY)
- Dee Dee Mozeleski (CCNY-CUNY)

Scientific Committee:

- Carlos Aguasaco (CCNY-CUNY)
- Cristina Crespo (Instituto Franklin-UAH)
- Julio Cañero (Instituto Franklin-UAH)
- Danielle Zach (CCNY-CUNY)
- David Jeruzalmi (CCNY-CUNY)
- Francisco Sáez de Adana Herrero (Instituto Franklin-UAH)
- Jose Antonio Gurpegui (Instituto Franklin-UAH)
- Juan Carlos Mercado (CCNY-CUNY)
- Richard Bueno Hudson (Instituto Cervantes NY)
- Susanna Rosenbaum (CCNY-CUNY)

Congress locations:

City College of New York
Downtown
Division of Interdisciplinary Studies
25 Broadway, 7th Floor
New York, NY 10004

City College of New York
Main Campus
160 Convent Ave, New York,
NY 10031

Cervantes Institute: New York
211 E 49th St,
New York, NY 10017

Organizers:

