The City College of New York’s brand is the unforgettable and lasting experience it offers to all who come in contact with the institution. Whether external audiences experience the institution in person or via the website, social media, email, telephone, or through printed or digital collateral, the engagement they have with The City College of New York through its many different communication vehicles is the brand. The continuous interactions that internal audiences, including faculty, staff, students and alumni, have with the college also are factored into The City College of New York’s brand.

Whether good or bad, brand is the perceived truth projected about an institution by its audiences. Some of the most common words and phrases used to describe The City College of New York brand among its internal and external audiences include historic, original, diverse, multicultural, access, excellence, student success, transformative, community, arts, research, scholarship and creativity. The City College of New York captures and communicates this content in visual ways using graphic treatments that include the college logo, color, typography and photography.

This section offers guidelines on how to use properly.

Color Treatment

PMS 2665C and PMS 425C are the official college colors. The official college secondary colors are PMS 129C, PMS 298C, PMS 1807C and PMS 376C. The colors may be used as accents for the primary colors. See page 4 for color swatches.

Logo Treatment

The rectangular logo is one component of the brand. The logo should appear on the front and back of each publication.

Photography

Using quality photography of The City College of New York campus is crucial to the college's messaging and brand. Imagery of the campus is one of The City College of New York’s most valued visual assets.

Typography

The typefaces Libre Baskerville, Lato and Raleway are components of the brand and should be used on all materials. These Typefaces can be used in the same publication. See page 5 for typefaces.
The City College of New York’s marketing color palette supports the college’s long-standing purple and gray. In Pantone numbers, “C” stands for coated paper and “U” stands for uncoated paper.

The primary colors for The City College of New York are purple, gray and white. The first use of purple by the college dates back to the late 19th century. Called lavender during that time, the color has evolved through many hues during the centuries to the purple and gray used today.

The values for the colors are taken from Pantone’s Formula Guide and not Pantone’s Color Bridge.

NOTE: Colors on computer monitors are not accurate. Specify Pantone numbers to ensure color reproduction is correct. The color names provided above are for quick reference only. It is important to print the purple as a spot color whenever possible, as its CMYK translation is very dull. The Pantone 425 grey should be replaced with 85% black when working in CMYK. The other colors translate well to CMYK.
Secondary Colors

These colors may be used as accents along with the primary colors.

Secondary colors have been established to add variety and flexibility to the primary colors. Additionally, secondary colors allow the college’s schools and divisions as well as programs to become sub brands of the college’s brand.
SYSTEM TYPEFACES

The official typefaces for the college are Libre Baskerville, Lato and Raleway. They should be used in all college documents. These typefaces are available in a number of weights and styles.
Serif Typeface

Libre Baskerville is the official serif typeface of the college. It is the preferred typeface for headlines. It may also be used for body and legal copy.

Sans Serif Typefaces

Lato is the official sans-serif typeface of The City College of New York. This typeface may be used for body, legal, headlines, special sections and call-out text.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Lato Regular</th>
<th>ABCDEFGHIJKLMNOPQRSTUVWXYZ</th>

In very limited cases (Social Media), The City College of New York acronym may be used. Due to certain limitations in logo space in digital media, the college's acronym is used in place of the college's gray logo. In the instance of social media, the white CCNY letters are placed in a circle or square purple shape. These stylized acronym cannot be combined with other logo designs.

For logo files, please visit www.ccny.cuny.edu/sites/default/files/CCNY_Acronyms.zip
Usage

The City College of New York logos and acronyms are trademarked. They should be used only in the form provided; do not modify or re-type logos. Any exceptions need to be approved by the Office of Institutional Advancement, Communications & External Relations.

Please note, these are just a few examples of how not to modify our college logo and acronyms. It is not representative of all the examples.

!Examples of incorrect logo usage

- Do not outline or expand any part of the logo.
- Do not use colors other than the official The City College of New York logo colors, or black and white.
- Do not modify the relationships and distances between the elements of The City College of New York college logo.
The City College of New York seal is used on official documents from the president and Board of Trustees. Examples include commencement materials, diplomas and legal documents. This seal is not available to the public, please contact Office of Institutional Advancement and Communications at communications@ccny.cuny.edu, if you need to use this seal.

Use commas when using abbreviated degrees after a name. Never use an academic degree title preceding a name and the abbreviated degree following a name in the same reference.

- Vincent Boudreau, Ph.D.
- Dean Vincent Boudreau, Ph.D.
- Dr. Vincent Boudreau, Ph.D. (Wrong)
ACRONYMS

Acronyms are formed from multiple initial letters to create terms that take the place of a proper noun. Periods are not used. An acronym should only be used on second and subsequent references, after the proper name is used on first reference. Avoid overusing acronyms for every college program, especially new ones. In these cases, it is better to use the full name in order to promote or establish the new program.

CAPTIONS

Use complete sentences when writing captions for photographs, unless the caption is used to identify people or objects in the photo. Middle initials in names are unnecessary in captions.

COLLEGE NAME

Do not use The City College of New York interchangeably with CUNY as the two are very different institutions. Founded in 1847 by Townsend Harris, City College is the first public higher education institution in New York City and is a precursor to CUNY, which was established in 1961 by New York legislation to integrate existing higher education into one system for New York City.

The City College of New York

In announcements or other formal uses, the article with an upper case T can precede City. "The City College of New York" is used on first reference. "City College" or "CCNY" may be used on second and subsequent references.
COMMAS

The serial, or Oxford, comma is not used before the last in a series of items. The college follows Associated Press style, using the comma only when it is necessary to avoid confusion or misinterpretation. In such an instance, use the serial comma after the penultimate item in a list of three or more items, and before ‘and’ or ‘or.’

- He thanked his parents, Dean Martin, and Professor Lewis.
  (This separates his parents from Dean Martin and Professor Lewis).

- He thanked his parents, Dean Martin and Professor Lewis.
  (This implies that Dean Martin and Professor Lewis are his parents).

DEPARTMENTS, OFFICES AND PROGRAMS

The names of departments, offices and programs are capitalized. Capitalize the formal name of a specific department, but lower case department names in informal uses. Lowercase everything except proper nouns and adjectives (for example, the history department, the English department) or when the department is part of the formal name and cited in the complete form.

- The division of science held a seminar on Tuesday.
  (This implies the division name is part of the full name of the institution).

- The Science Division held a seminar on Tuesday.
  (This implies the division name is an informal use).

- The City College of New York Department of History.

EMAIL SIGNATURES

Email signatures should be standardized across the college.

HEADLINES

Only the first word and proper nouns are capitalized. An exception is made for the first word after a colon, which is always uppercase in headlines. Headlines should include an active verb. This prevents content from appearing outdated over time.

Decks and dropheads are treated as sentences, whether they have a verb or not. When using a deck or drophead, capitalize the first word and proper names. There is no period at the end unless more than one sentence is used.

NUMBERS

Numbers less than 10 should be written in words. For numbers 10 and higher, use numerals. If a sentence begins with a number, that number should be spelled out.
PERCENTAGES

Percent should always be used, not %.

- Hispanics comprise 34 percent of the student body at City College.
- Hispanics comprise 34% of the student body at City College.

SCHOOLS AND DIVISIONS

The City College of New York's schools and divisions are:

- Bernard and Anne Spitzer School of Architecture
- School of Education
- The Grove School of Engineering
- CUNY School of Medicine
- Colin Powell School for Civic and Global Leadership
- Division of Humanities and the Arts
- Division of Interdisciplinary Studies at the Center for Worker Education
- Division of Science

The City College of New York also offers certificate programs through its Continuing and Professional Studies department:

- Bernard and Anne Spitzer School of Architecture
- School of Education
- The Grove School of Engineering
- CUNY School of Medicine
- Colin Powell School for Civic and Global Leadership

An extensive list of divisions, departments and programs is available at www.ccny.cuny.edu/academics/index.cfm.
STATE NAMES

When using a state with the name of a town or a city, abbreviate the state name using Associated across the college. Press style, not USPS abbreviations. The names of eight states (Alaska, Hawaii, Idaho, Iowa, Maine, Ohio, Texas and Utah) are never abbreviated.

- Houston, Texas
- Houston, Tex.
- Houston, TX
- Parsippany, N.J.
- Parsippany, New Jersey
- Parsippany, NJ

SUBJECT AND VERB AGREEMENT

Certain verbs may be mistaken for singular or plural. Some of the more common words are listed below.

- Data show that enrollment increased.
- Media are covering this year's Commencement.
- Faculty is meeting this afternoon.
- Staff is attending a retreat.
TIMES AND DATES

Ante meridiem (a.m.) and post meridiem (p.m.) are written in lowercase with periods.

- The seminar will take place between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m.
- The seminar will take place between 11 AM and 1 PM.

No comma is used when dates are written with a month and year. Months of the year should not be abbreviated in text unless used with a specific date. With a specific date, the abbreviations Jan., Feb., Aug., Sept., Oct., Nov. and Dec. are used, while March, April, May, June and July are not abbreviated.

- January 2022
- January, 2022
- Jan. 20, 2022 or Jan. 20
- January 20, 2022 or January 20
When the title of a person’s position follows the name in a sentence or caption, the title is not capitalized. If the title precedes the name, initial capitalization is used.

WORD USAGE

Some examples of troublesome words and phrases are included here to avoid confusion and mistakes, and improper grammar and syntax.

Advisor is preferred to adviser as used by the National Academic Advising Association.

Alumna is a female student who has attended the college or a female graduate of the college. The plural form is alumnae.

Alumni are male students who have attended the college or male graduates of the college. Alumni are also coed students who have attended the college or who have graduated from the college.

Alumnus is a male student who has attended the college or is a male graduate of the college. The plural form is alumni.

Ampersand is never used to replace the word “and.” Use “&” only if it is part of the official name of an organization.

And/or combination should never be used. Use one or the other, not both.
Backward, not backwards.

Campuswide, not campus-wide.

Center is not capitalized unless it begins a sentence, is used as a header, or is used as part of a proper noun.

College is lowercase always unless used as part of a full proper name or begins a sentence.

Commencement is the college's major annual event that honors graduates and other student achievements. It is capitalized when referencing the event.

CUNY first is used on first and subsequent references. It stands for City University of New York’s Fully Integrated Resources and Services Tool. It is used to streamline and standardize processes in academic and student records, human resources, and procurement and purchasing.

E-mail is used with a hyphen. The “e” in e-mail is not capitalized unless it begins a sentence or a header.

Emigrate is leaving one's country to permanently settle in another.
