Fire Safety: Certificate of Fitness C-14

The City of New York Fire Department requires that all non-production chemical laboratories have a Certificate of Fitness for Non-Production Chemical Laboratories (C-14) holder to be present at all times during operation. The certificate is site specific to the City College campus and for the respective certificate holder. City College requires C-14 training to be completed once, as long as renewals of the certificates are maintained. For more information about applying for a Certificate of Fitness, visit:

OSHA Laboratory Safety Standard

This training includes information on lab standards and regulations set forth by OSHA. It includes potential hazards associated with the lab environment, along with applicable exposure control measures. City College requires the training to be completed every three years.

RCRA Hazardous Waste Management

Hazardous Waste Management (HazWaste) Training includes information pertaining to EPA regulations governing proper disposal of waste generated during research or experiments. City College requires this training to be completed annually as per EPA regulations.

Biosafety: Bloodborne Pathogen Safety

Biosafety Training includes information related to bloodborne pathogen safety and the City College Exposure Control Plan and is offered through CUNY via CITI Program. City College requires that individuals working in a lab with Biosafety Level 2 (BSL-2) or higher have training in bloodborne pathogen safety. See the EHOS training page for further information on registration and requirements.

Radiation Safety

Radiation Safety Training is given annually through CUNY Central and is offered as a four-hour refresher training. Initial Radiation Safety trainings are offered infrequently and when scheduled through the EHOS office as a necessity for laboratory staff.
