BRAND GUIDELINES

The City College of New York's brand is the unforgettable and lasting experience it offers to all who come in contact with the institution. Whether external audiences experience the institution in person or via the website, social media, email, telephone, or through printed or digital collateral, the engagement they have with The City College of New York through its many different communication vehicles is the brand. The continuous interactions that internal audiences, including faculty, staff, students and alumni, have with the college also are factored into The City College of New York's brand.

Whether good or bad, brand is the perceived truth projected about an institution by its audiences. Some of the most common words and phrases used to describe The City College of New York brand among its internal and external audiences include historic, original, diverse, multicultural, access, excellence, student success, transformative, community, arts, research, scholarship and creativity. The City College of New York captures and communicates this content in visual ways using graphic treatments that include the college logo, color, typography and photography.

This section offers guidelines on how to use properly.

Color Treatment

PMS 2665C and PMS 425C are the official college colors. The official college secondary colors are PMS 129C, PMS 298C, PMS 1807C and PMS 376C. The colors may be used as accents for the primary colors. See page 4 for color swatches.

Logo Treatment

The rectangular logo is one component of the brand. The logo should appear on the front and back of each publication.

Photography

Using quality photography of The City College of New York campus is crucial to the college's messaging and brand. Imagery of the campus is one of The City College of New York's most valued visual assets.

Typography

The typefaces Libre Baskerville, Lato and Raleway are components of the brand and should be used on all materials. These Typefaces can be used in the same publication. See page 5 for typefaces.

SYSTEM COLORS

The City College of New York's marketing color palette supports the college's long-standing purple and gray.

In Pantone numbers, "C" stands for coated paper and "U" stands for uncoated paper.

The primary colors for The City College of New York are purple, gray and white. The first use of purple by the college dates back to the late 19th century. Called lavender during that time, the color has evolved through many hues during the centuries to the purple and gray used today.

The values for the colors are taken from Pantone's Formula Guide and not Pantone's Color Bridge.

NOTE: Colors on computer monitors are not accurate. Specify Pantone numbers to ensure color reproduction is correct. The color names provided above are for quick reference only. It is important to print the purple as a spot color whenever possible, as its CMYK translation is very dull. The Pantone 425 grey should be replaced with 85% black when working in CMYK. The other colors translate well to CMYK.

LOGO ON MERCHANDISE

Here are some examples of the logo on merchandise.

Schools and Divisions Merchandise

Here are examples of how some schools and divisions can display their pride and color through merchandising.

ACADEMIC DEGREES

Bachelor's degree and master's degree are used. Doctoral or doctorate is used but not doctorate degree. Doctorate is a noun. Doctoral is an adjective. Apostrophes are not used when stating the formal name of a degree as in Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts.

- ✓ She earned a bachelor's degree from The City College of New York.
- ✗ She earned a bachelor degree from The City College of New York.
- ✓ He earned a doctoral degree from The City College of New York.
- ✓ He earned a doctorate from The City College of New York.
- ✗ He earned a doctorate degree from The City College of New York.

Abbreviations of Academic Degrees.

B.A.	Bachelor of Arts
B. Arch	Bachelor of Architecture
B.S.	Bachelor of Science
B.E.	Bachelor of Engineering
B.F.A.	Bachelor of Fine Arts
M.A.	Master of Arts
M. Arch	Master of Architecture
M.F.A.	Master of Fine Arts
M.S.	Master of Science
M.S. Ed.	Master of Science in Education
M.L.A.	Master of Landscape Architecture
M.P.A.	Master of Public Administration
M.P.S.	Master of Professional Studies
Ed.D.	Doctor of Education
Ph.D.	Doctor of Philosophy

Use commas when using abbreviated degrees after a name. Never use an academic degree title preceding a name and the abbreviated degree following a name in the same reference.

- ✓ Vincent Boudreau, Ph.D.
- ✓ Dean Vincent Boudreau, Ph.D.
- ✗ Dr. Vincent Boudreau, Ph.D.

ACRONYMS

Acronyms are formed from multiple initial letters to create terms that take the place of a proper noun. Periods are not used. An acronym should only be used on second and subsequent references, after the proper name is used on first reference. Avoid overusing acronyms for every college program, especially new ones. In these cases, it is better to use the full name in order to promote or establish the new program.

CAPTIONS

Use complete sentences when writing captions for photographs, unless the caption is used to identify people or objects in the photo. Middle initials in names are unnecessary in captions.

COLLEGE NAME

Do not use The City College of New York interchangeably with CUNY as the two are very different institutions. Founded in 1847 by Townsend Harris, City College is the first public higher education institution in

New York City and is a precursor to CUNY, which was established in 1961 by New York legislation to integrate existing higher education into one system for New York City.

The City College of New York

In announcements or other formal uses, the article with an upper case T can precede City. “The City College of New York” is used on first reference. “City College” or “CCNY” may be used on second and subsequent references.

COMMAS

The serial, or Oxford, comma is not used before the last in a series of items. The college follows Associated Press style, using the comma only when it is necessary to avoid confusion or misinterpretation. In such an instance, use the serial comma after the penultimate item in a list of three or more items, and before 'and' or 'or.'

He thanked his parents, Dean Martin, and Professor Lewis.
(This separates his parents from Dean Martin and Professor Lewis).

He thanked his parents, Dean Martin and Professor Lewis.
(This implies that Dean Martin and Professor Lewis are his parents).

DEPARTMENTS, OFFICES AND PROGRAMS

The names of departments, offices and programs are capitalized. Capitalize the formal name of a specific department, but lower case department names in informal uses. Lowercase everything except proper nouns and adjectives (for example, the history department, the English department) or when the department is part of the formal name and cited in the complete form.

HEADLINES

Only the first word and proper nouns are capitalized. An exception is made for the first word after a colon, which is always uppercase in headlines. Headlines should include an active verb. This prevents content from appearing outdated over time.

Decks and dropheads are treated as sentences, whether they have a verb or not. When using a deck or drophead, capitalize the first word and proper names. There is no period at the end unless more than one sentence is used.

NUMBERS

Numbers less than 10 should be written in words. For numbers 10 and higher, use numerals. If a sentence begins with a number, that number should be spelled out.

PERCENTAGES

Percent should always be used, not %.

Hispanics comprise 34 percent of the student body at City College.

Hispanics comprise 34% of the student body at City College.

SCHOOLS AND DIVISIONS

The City College of New York's schools and divisions are:

Bernard and Anne Spitzer School of Architecture

School of Education

The Grove School of Engineering

The Sophie Davis School of Biomedical Education

Colin Powell School for Civic and Global Leadership

Division of Humanities and the Arts

Division of Interdisciplinary Studies at the Center for Worker Education

Division of Science

The City College of New York also offers certificate programs through its Continuing and Professional Studies department:

— Bernard and Anne Spitzer School of Architecture

— School of Education

— The Grove School of Engineering

— The Sophie Davis School of Biomedical Education

— Colin Powell School for Civic and Global Leadership

An extensive list of divisions, departments and programs is available at www.ccny.cuny.edu/academics/index.cfm.

STATE NAMES

When using a state with the name of a town or a city, abbreviate the state name using Associated across the college. Press style, not USPS abbreviations. The names of eight states (Alaska, Hawaii, Idaho, Iowa, Maine, Ohio, Texas and Utah) are never abbreviated.

- ✓ Houston, Texas
- ✗ Houston, Tex.
- ✗ Houston, TX
