9. Guide to the Preparation of Essay in Lieu of Thesis

Attribution of information in the research paper (non-exhaustive examples)*

*(This portion has been provided by courtesy of Professor Laura Callahan. These examples and explanatory note DO NOT intend to be exhaustive. Students MUST consult the MLA Style Manual for additional, current and more detailed information)

IMPORTANT:

Any and all references that appear in the Works Cited (a.k.a. Bibliography or References) section at the end of the paper must also appear within the paper, as the source of a direct and/or indirect quote or quotes.

Likewise, any and all references that appear within the paper, as the source of direct and/or indirect quotes, must also have a full bibliographic citation at the end of the paper. A “full bibliographic citation” means one that follows the conventions of the citation style used and contains enough information for the reader to locate the same source.

Examples of indirect quotes (i.e. the information cited is not quoted word-for-word but has instead been paraphrased by the writer of the research paper):

Many studies have been done of the Spanish of the Southwestern United States, that is, of the states of Arizona, California, Colorado, New Mexico, and Texas. Within this wide zone is situated the New Mexican dialect, which in turn includes various subdialects (Bowen 1976: 93). The Spanish of New Mexico stands out for the quantity of variables found within a single region (Cárdenas 1975: 3).

Information that has been both translated and paraphrased from the original text must also have a parenthetical reference. (B) in Example (2) lacks this, and would hence be considered plagiarism.

Communication is at the heart of second language study, whether the communication takes place face-to-face, in writing, or across centuries through the reading of literature. Through the study of other languages, students gain a knowledge and understanding of the cultures that use that language and, in fact, cannot truly master the language until they have also mastered the cultural contexts in which the language occurs. Learning languages provides connections to additional bodies of knowledge that may be unavailable to the monolingual English speaker. Through comparisons and contrasts with the language being studied, students develop insight into the nature of language and the concept of culture and realize that there are multiple ways of viewing the world. Together, these elements enable the student of languages to participate in multilingual communities at home and around the world in a variety of contexts and in culturally appropriate ways.

(B) The information as it appeared in the research paper:

La Comunicación en un idioma diferente del inglés es la esencia del estudio de una segunda lengua. Se origina esta comunicación en el diálogo personal, a través de la escritura, o a lo largo de los siglos, gracias a la lectura de obras literarias, el aprendizaje de otro idioma permitirá a los estudiantes el conocimiento y sobre todo el mejor entendimiento de la Cultura que usa ese lenguaje. En realidad, los estudiantes dominarán de mejor manera el nuevo lenguaje al adentrarse en el contexto cultural en el que se desarrolla la nueva lengua. El aprendizaje de idiomas proporciona, a su vez, las Conexiones necesarias para el conocimiento e información de otras disciplinas que a veces son vedadas a las personas con dominio único del inglés. A través de las Comparaciones y contrastes con el nuevo lenguaje los alumnos desarrollarán un mejor entendimiento de su propia lengua y cultura al igual que ampliarán su visión del mundo. Todos estos aspectos, en definitiva, le favorecerán al estudiante de un idioma extranjero la posibilidad de una participación activa en Comunidades multilingües de su entorno social o alrededor del mundo.

Examples of direct quotes:

In the work of one of the authors we find the substitution of the possessive adjective for the definite article:

Los padrinos están ahí cerca para darle a la gente alfileres para que ellos les prendan dinero [...] a los novios en su ropa. Las mujeres le prenden el dinero en su vestido al novio, y los hombres le prenden el dinero en el manto a la novia. (Ortiz 1987: 180; emphasis added)

For this course, quotes need not be translated if they are in one of the languages listed on the syllabus. However, when a direct quote has been translated from the language of the original source to the language of the research paper, the author of the research paper must specify this within the parenthetical reference:

Colombi sees academic registers as imperative for the very maintenance of Spanish in the U.S.:

The maintenance of Spanish as a minority language depends on the development of registers and uses that go beyond the home and community, in other words, if we really want to maintain Spanish as a living language within the United States it is important to develop aspects of academic discourse that will permit its speakers to participate in a public sphere. (Colombi 2000: 296; my translation)

Dice Strong-Krause:

La tarea de ubicar a los estudiantes en las distintas clases de lengua ha sido tradicionalmente llevada a cabo a través de una combinación de pruebas objetivas, ensayos y entrevistas orales. Sin embargo, este enfoque puede ser costoso en términos de tiempo y dinero. [...] Un enfoque alternativo es el uso de cuestionarios de autoevaluación en combinación con, o en lugar de, los exámenes tradicionales. (Strong-Krause 2000: 49; traducción mía)

Longer direct quotes are set apart from the rest of the text, as in Examples (3)-(5), above. Shorter direct quotes may begin on the same line as the rest of the text, and must be enclosed in quotation marks, as in Example (6), below. The use of brackets [...] means that the research paper writer has chosen to omit some of the words in the direct quote:

Benjamin (1997: 2) states: “By stressing the written form [...] we may find ourselves in an uncomfortable position. Our students’ reasons for studying Spanish may not jibe with our professed goals.” She points out that “using the written form commonly requires that students use the prestige variety of Spanish” (Benjamin 1997: 3).

PROCEDURE:

The student will develop a paper written for a graduate class with a Primary Faculty Mentor (normally the professor of that class) and a Second Faculty Mentor. The first mentor (Director) of the “tesina” must approve it before going on to the second mentor. The student is responsible for speaking with the professors (First and Second Mentors) at the beginning of the essay preparation, so as to comply with all deadlines in a timely fashion. When the completed thesis has been approved by both Primary and Secondary Faculty Mentors, the student must complete the form “Certification of Completion of Master’s Thesis Requirement” (see sample copy below). Also, please remember that you must fill out your “Intent to Graduate” by the specified date).

FORMAT REQUIREMENTS:

Two (2) copies bound in a standard, black binder with transparent cover (available in any stationery store). Unacceptable: Overstrikes, interlineations, crossout, defective, lines from paste-ups, dots and shading in the background, smudges and smears, erasures, and white-out. The use of photo-mounting corners, staples, or transparent tape is prohibited.

TEXT LAYOUT:

NOTE: Students must follow the rules of style of the MLA Handbook, most recent edition.

1. Margins: top, right, and bottom must be one-inch minimum; the left margin (binding side) must be one and one half inches.
2. Spacing: the text is double-spaced, including bibliography and text quoted. The pages must be single-sided only.
3. Footnotes: Reference notes may be placed at the bottom of the page, at the end of the chapter, or at the end of the essay before the Bibliography/Works Cited page.

4. Required Order and Page Numbering:

Required Order	Sections	Page Numbering
1. Cover and Title Page	Title Page	None
2. Preliminary Pages	a. Dedication Page (optional)	Lower Case Roman numerals (upper right hand corner)
3. All Other Pages	b. Acknowledgements Page	Lower Case Roman numerals (upper right hand corner)

Procedures to Identify Readers for Research Paper in lieu of Thesis

In order to streamline the procedure for identifying a Director and a second reader of the required “tesina” or research paper in lieu of thesis, please take into account the following:

- 1) It is the responsibility of the student to identify and contact the director; a starting point is to select a monograph in which the student has received a high grade, and work with the instructor that corrected that monograph.
- 2) Together with the Director, the student identifies and contacts the second reader and prepares the research plan;
- 3) The final draft of the “tesina” must be approved by the Director before going to the second reader;
- 4) The preparation of an acceptable version of the “tesina” may require several drafts as the student incorporates the suggestions provided by both readers;
- 5) The final draft of the “tesina” should be completed at least four weeks before the college deadline for graduation. After securing the approval and signature of the Director and the second reader, the student will proceed to “file” the “tesina,” as indicated in the Handbook for Graduate Students.

The student, the Director and the second reader must work together to facilitate the completion of the research project. The readers must revise and return to the student the various drafts of the tesina within a reasonable time (Each draft should be returned within six (6) weeks). If there are questions or problems, please consult the Director of the M. A. program in Spanish or the Chair of the Department. Deadlines to apply for graduation are available at the registrar’s office; the student should familiarize him/herself with these deadlines.
