The Ephebic Oath

Lawrence Greengrass '73
President, CCNY Alumni Association

We men and women
graduating from The City College of New York,
do this day, after the manner of the Athenian youths of old about to enter public life
take this oath of devotion to the City of New York:

we will never bring disgrace to our city
by any act of dishonesty or cowardice
nor ever desert our suffering comrades in the ranks;

we will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the city
both alone and with many;

we will revere and obey the city's laws,
and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence
in those about us who are prone to annul them
and set them at naught;

we will strive unceasingly to quicken the public's sense of civic duty;

and thus, in all these ways, we will strive to transmit this city and not only not less but greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Vince Boudreau
President

Dear Member of the class of 2025,

Please accept my most heartfelt congratulations on this, your graduation day. For those of us who worked with you through the years, it is unbelievably gratifying to stand at your side at this moment, and watch as you move out from the campus we shared, and into the world.

Most of us will never know the full measures of the challenges you overcame to get here. We may only vaguely grasp the extent to which your years on this campus transformed your ideas, your commitments or your approach to the world. We do know that in graduating from this historic institution, you join generations upon generations of young people who came to CCNY to remake their lives, and left this campus to remake the world. You are full heirs to that legacy, and I am sure that you will bear it well.

On this campus, we have endeavored to build a community where ethics matter, where respect for diverse opinions and experiences governs our interactions, where we constantly and collectively think about what a better world would look like, and how we might call it into being. You have been asked, in class after class, to devote your mind, your ambition, and your creativity toward unknotting the most pressing questions we face as a people.

The world you enter today is fraught with challenges. We have too often been urged to regard what is unfamiliar as dangerous, to greet differences of opinion with suspicion rather than curiosity, to allow force rather than reason to govern our interactions. Your time at CCNY should help inoculate you against the temptation to pull back from a broader and more generous experience of humanity. Our work together has in fact been bounded by a singular assumption about education: that we gather a community, for each of these past 178 years, to develop a cadre of men and women who embrace challenges with bravery, welcome the unfamiliar with curiosity, and greet the hardship of others with warmth and understanding. And, in this spirit we have helped to build New York into the marvelous city it has become, and coax our human community into the light of greater empathy and understanding. This is your legacy.

You are no less equipped to act upon this vision than any generation that came before you—and now, you join them. Be wise and kind. Lean on your education. Nurture the memory of how it feels to approach new questions with an open mind and a clear head. And, in so doing, take your place among the storied and honorable rank of those who walked this path before you. And know, without the faintest specter of doubt, that we have been honored by your presence, enriched by your ideas, and uplifted by the anticipation of what you will accomplish for us all, in the world.

With my warmest congratulations,

SPECIAL SPEAKER

Brad Lander
Comptroller of
New York City

Comptroller Brad Lander serves as New York City's chief financial officer, leading an office of roughly 800 public servants in their work to promote the financial health, integrity, and effectiveness of city government and secure a more thriving and sustainable future for all New Yorkers.

As investment advisor and custodian for the City's public pension funds, Comptroller Lander stewards the retirement security of over 750,000 current and retired public sector workers, with a prudent, diversified, long-term approach to the City's investments and obligations. Under Comptroller Lander's leadership, three of the City's funds have adopted a detailed plan to reach net zero emissions by 2040, among the most aggressive in the nation. The plan includes divesting from fossil fuels, engaging asset managers and portfolio companies toward decarbonization across the economy, and dramatically scaling up investments in climate solutions.

Comptroller Lander serves as the City's budget watchdog and chief accountability officer. His audits revealed nearly a quarter of a billion dollars underreported in NYC Ferry expenditures, inadequate cost controls in Covid-19 emergency procurement, and the ineffectiveness of the City's homeless sweeps.

Comptroller Lander's team published the first detailed report on emergency shelter costs for asylum seekers and identified more effective strategies for addressing the humanitarian crisis. The office launched the Department of Correction Dashboard to provide much-needed transparency into City jails. And his initiative with Mayor Eric Adams to pay nonprofit human service providers on time has reduced nearly year-long payment delays.

As Comptroller, Lander has strengthened the office's efforts to combat the climate crisis, create and preserve affordable housing, and protect workers. His Public Solar NYC plan includes an innovative "public option" to scale up rooftop solar and create good green jobs. Under his leadership, the NYC pension funds led shareholder advocacy through which most Starbucks investors voted for an independent review of the company's labor and human rights policies and actions.

As part of his commitment to New York City's thriving and sustainable future, Comptroller Lander is focused on improving the City's public infrastructure. As of July 2023, Comptroller Lander has managed the issuance of a total of $7.8 billion in municipal bonds to invest in schools, parks, transportation, water and sewers, and climate resiliency projects. The office's public finance work includes innovative social bonds and tender solicitations that have generated hundreds of millions of dollars in savings, even amid rising interest rates. Comptroller Lander also worked with the Adams Administration to improve the City's capacity to ensure infrastructure projects are built on time and on budget.

Prior to being elected Comptroller in 2021, Lander spent 12 years in the City Council, where he co-founded the Council's Progressive Caucus and won transformative changes to expand workers' rights, secure tenant protections, create affordable housing, integrate and strengthen the district's public schools, and make streets safer. He served previously as the director of the Fifth Avenue Committee and the Pratt Center for Community Development.

Brad lives with his wife, Meg Barnette, in Brooklyn where they raised two children, Marek and Rosa, who still roll their eyes at his dad jokes.

VALEDICTORIAN & SALUTATORIAN

Eilyn Zuniga Marquez
2025 Valedictorian

Eilyn Zuniga Marquez, a Salvadoran immigrant who graduated summa cum laude in January with dual BA and MA degrees in psychology from the Colin Powell School for Civic and Global Leadership, has been named The City College of New York's Class of 2025 Valedictorian. A Bronx resident who immigrated to the U.S. in 2018, Marquez overcame language barriers and cultural challenges to thrive academically. After taking ESL classes at Liberty High School Academy for Newcomers, she enrolled at CCNY, where she excelled despite the disruptions of the COVID-19 pandemic. With support from the SEEK program and the Colin Powell School Office of Student Success, she made the Dean's List and received multiple honors, including SEEK Sophomore of the Year and Outstanding SEEK Graduate. Her BA/MA degrees fulfill New York State's educational requirements for certification as a substance use counselor, and through an internship at RevCore Recovery Center, she provided counseling to patients with substance use disorders. Passionate about improving community mental health, she plans to pursue a Ph.D. in clinical psychology. In the meantime, she has accepted a Civil Service Pathways Fellowship with the NYC Department of Citywide Administrative Services and is currently working with the Department of Homeless Services on special initiatives in city shelters.

Andrew Williams
2025 Salutatorian

Andrew Williams, who completed his coursework summa cum laude for a BS in psychology in the Colin Powell School's Macaulay Honors Program, is the Class of 2025 Salutatorian. A Queens native and son of Jamaican immigrants, Williams distinguished himself at CCNY through numerous academic honors, including a full-tuition scholarship to Macaulay Honors College, the Peter F. Vallone Scholarship, the CCAPP and AMSNY Scholarships, and the prestigious Jeannette K. Watson Fellowship. The latter took him to Perth, Australia, where he conducted brain tumor research at The Kids Research Institute. At home, he contributed to innovative research in Professor Ruth E. Stark's NMR spectroscopy lab, tutored biology and chemistry through CCAPP, volunteered in the emergency department at NewYork-Presbyterian Columbia, and worked as a scribe technician at CITYMD. On campus, he also served on the Colin Powell School Student Advisory Board. Williams plans to continue tutoring while preparing to apply to medical school.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION'S MESSAGE

Lawrence Greengrass '73
President, CCNY
Alumni Association

Dear Class of 2025,

On behalf of the Alumni Association of The City College of New York, it is my great pleasure and deep honor to congratulate you on reaching this important milestone. Today, we celebrate your academic achievements—but more than that, we celebrate your grit, your vision, and your belief in the transformative power of education. Commencement marks both an ending and a beginning—a celebration of all that you have accomplished, and the start of all you are still destined to achieve.

I know that most of you did not arrive on this campus with a silver spoon. No, this is your achievement, along with the people who supported and assisted you, and both you and they must be proud. You are proof that hard work, determination, and a belief in something greater can break through even the most difficult circumstances. Your journey through City College—whether in person or virtually, through late nights, tight deadlines, and moments of doubt—has prepared you not only to succeed, but to lead. You've already demonstrated that you have the resilience to face a shifting world, and now you carry the responsibility to help shape it.

You are graduating during a time of immense uncertainty in our country and across the world. We are facing deep social, political, and economic challenges. We are witnessing increasing division, the erosion of public trust, and troubling attempts to devalue the very idea of knowledge, scholarship, and open inquiry. The value of higher education is under attack, and institutions like City College—which have long served as engines of opportunity and progress—face increasing challenges. In such times, it would be easy to grow disheartened. But your presence here today proves otherwise. You are living proof that courage, community, and perseverance still carry the day.

City College has always been more than a school—it's a movement. Founded on the principle that excellence belongs to everyone, CCNY has produced generations of alumni who have fought for justice, advanced science and the arts, and lifted their communities. You now inherit that legacy. With your degree comes not only opportunity, but responsibility: to use your knowledge and your voice to build a better, fairer, and more hopeful world.

The challenges you face are real. But so is your power. Never underestimate what can be accomplished when driven individuals come together with purpose, with heart, and with hope. Stay optimistic. Dream big. Work hard. And surround yourself with people who push you to grow and give back. Your education is not just a personal achievement—it is a public asset. You have the power to confront injustice, to champion truth, to protect the vulnerable, and to build the kind of society that reflects the best of who we are. The path ahead may not be simple or smooth, but know this: you are not alone. With desire, with community, and with relentless effort, anything is possible. As you take your next steps—whether into the workforce, graduate studies, or new ventures—I encourage you to stay connected to the College and to one another. You are now part of a remarkable family of over 100,000 CCNY alumni whose accomplishments span every field and every corner of the globe. Our strength is in our unity, and your engagement helps ensure that the City College mission continues to thrive for future generations.

The Alumni Association is your bridge to this vibrant network. Your first two years of membership are completely free, and your involvement directly supports student scholarships, mentoring programs, and vital college initiatives. We invite you to contribute your time, your talents, and, when you're able, your resources—so that those who follow in your footsteps will have the same opportunities you had, and more. Please see www.ccnyalumni.org for all that we can offer to you.

Class of 2025, I am proud to welcome you into the CCNY alumni family. Go forward with confidence, with pride, and with the unshakable belief that together, we can create the kind of world we all deserve.

Congratulations—and welcome.

With admiration and solidarity,
Larry Greengrass
President, Alumni Association of CCNY

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE CITY COLLEGE OF NEW YORK

This year The City College of New York celebrates the 178th anniversary of its founding. The need for an institution like The City College was recognized as early as 1847, when the State Legislature authorized a local referendum to determine whether a public college should be established in the City of New York; at the time, the city had a population of a half-million people and two private colleges, which had high tuition and only 247 pupils. The vote was overwhelmingly in favor of the proposition, and the Free Academy was established in a new building at Lexington Avenue and 23rd Street. The doors to its first entering class opened in January, 1849, and a class of seventeen young men graduated in 1853; with friends and family members, that first commencement was too large for the chapel at the Free Academy, so it was celebrated in Biblo's beer garden.

In 1866 the name of the Free Academy was changed by legislative act to The College of the City of New York. Since then, it has been called CCNY—an unofficial designation the College retained even after its name was again changed in 1929 to The City College. Students, alumni and friends call the College, simply, "City." The college colors, lavender and black, were chosen by the student body in 1866. The beaver, symbol of intelligence, industry and determination, was voted to be the College's official athletics' mascot by a student-wide poll in 1934.

The governing body of the College, originally the Board of Education, was replaced in 1900 by a separate Board of Trustees appointed by the Mayor. In 1926, the Board of Higher Education was established to govern both City and Hunter College (founded in 1870), and subsequently the entire City University system, established in 1961. After primary responsibility for funding the University became that of New York State rather than New York City, an enlarged Board of Trustees, appointed by the Governor and the Mayor, assumed control in 1980.

The City College of New York, originally limited to undergraduate programs in classical and practical courses of study, has continually enlarged both the breadth and the depth of its offerings. Today it offers more than sixty undergraduate programs and majors and more than forty graduate programs, including PhD programs in six disciplines.

The City College moved to its present location in 1907, and now occupies a thirty-five acre Neo-Gothic and modern campus on historic St. Nicholas Heights. It is really a small university, with a College of Liberal Arts and Science and four professional schools—the Bernard and Anne Spitzer School of Architecture, the Grove School of Engineering, School of Education, and the CUNY School of Medicine (formerly the Sophie Davis School of Biomedical Education).

The City College is the nation's flagship institution of public higher education, predating the midwestern state and land-grant colleges by two decades. It is the number 2 college in the nation with the greatest success of ensuring the social mobility of our students. For more than 170 years it has been a primary avenue of advancement for generations of New Yorkers who might not have had the chance to attend college. Today it continues to fulfill the aim of its founder, Townsend Harris, who said: "Open the doors to all—Let the children of the rich and the poor take their seats together and know of no distinction save that of industry, good conduct and intellect."

ABOUT COMMENCEMENT

The City College of New York, originally called The Free Academy, held its first Commencement in 1853 with a graduating class of 17. This year, we will celebrate the 172nd graduating class, which corrects for how the College previously counted the number of graduations since 1847.

The Alma Mater

Lavender, My Lavender

Sturdy sons of City College
Trusty hearts and mighty hands
Rally where your streaming banner
With its dauntless emblem stands.
Send a cheer to heaven ringing
Filled with love and fond acclaim
Faith and pride in Alma Mater
And her never dying fame.

CHORUS:

*Lavender, my Lavender
Lavender, my Lavender
On the fields of life's endeavor
Bound by ties that naught can sever
Hail we Alma Mater ever!
Lavender, my Lavender.*

Daughters fair of City College
We are wise and we are strong.
We will bring you pride and glory
With our life's unending song.
All will join us in our singing
Songs of love and fond acclaim
Faith and pride in alma mater
And her never dying fame.

CHORUS:

*Lavender, my Lavender
Lavender, my Lavender
On the fields of life's endeavor
Bound by ties that naught can sever
Hail we Alma Mater ever!
Lavender, my Lavender.
Lavender, my Lavender.*
