

The NOYCE Teacher Academy at City College of New York is a program for students who want to become teachers of middle and high school mathematics or science.

Who should apply?

Students who:

- Are interested in becoming teachers
- Enjoy biology, physics, chemistry or mathematics
- Want to help improve schools in New York City and make positive changes in their communities

What do students study in the NOYCE Teacher Academy at CCNY?

Students can major in biology, physics chemistry or mathematics.

What benefits does the NOYCE Teacher Academy at CCNY offer?

There are numerous benefits that include:

- Financial support for eligible students – students will receive full tuition and fees waiver for their last two years of their undergraduate degree as well as a stipend
- A stipend-paid internship in sophomore year
- Classes with fellow NOYCE scholars
- A dedicated space for NOYCE scholars to study together
- Opportunities for summer internships
- The opportunity to study and conduct research with outstanding faculty in mathematics and science
- Faculty mentors in education, mathematics, and science
- Eligibility for a full-time teaching position in a NYC public school after successful completion of the CCNY Teacher Academy Program

What are the admissions requirements?

Criteria for college applicants include:

- An overall average of 3.0 or higher in mathematics and science courses
- Successful completion of 30 College Credits, preferably with 15 credits in mathematics and science courses
- Recommendation from a mathematics or science professor
- Demonstrated interest in teaching in NYC Public Schools through your personal essay

For more information and to download an application form, please visit our website:

<http://csauth.cuny.cuny.edu/prospective/education/teacheracademy>

NOYCE Teacher Academy Sophomore Internship

Students interested in the NOYCE Teacher Academy at CCNY will be eligible to participate in a stipend internship in their sophomore year. Through labs, group activities, special projects and field trips, students will quickly get to know professors, peers and mentors who share their enthusiasm and interest in mathematics and science.

The NOYCE Teacher Academy at CCNY (NOYCE TA) can put you on a fast track to becoming a teacher of math or science. The world renowned faculty at City College will guide you through all your academics, while you learn the craft of teaching with master teachers.

<http://csauth.ccny.cuny.edu/prospective/education/teacheracademy>

School of Education
The City University of New York
NAC 6/207
160 Convent Avenue
New York, NY 10031

For more information, please contact:

Dr. Bruce Billig, Director
NOYCE Teacher Academy at
CCNY
Phone: (212) 650-5156
bbillig@ccny.cuny.edu

The City College of New York

NOYCE TEACHER ACADEMY

The NOYCE Teacher Academy at CCNY prepares talented and motivated individuals to become exceptional mathematics and science teachers in New York City middle and high schools.

CCNY

CUNY

CCNY

CUNY