Protocol on Infectious Disease Notification

From time to time, CUNY students or employees may contract an infectious disease that can be spread through casual contact. In such circumstances, which could impact the health and safety of the CUNY community, students and employees should follow this protocol. If a student or an employee is in doubt whether an infectious disease is covered, he/she should contact the Student Health Services office.

When students contract an infectious disease that can be spread through casual contact, they should immediately report it to the Executive Director of Student Support Resources. If the Executive Director of Student Support Resources is unavailable, they should report it to the Vice President of Student Affairs. If the Student Affairs office is closed, they should report it to the Executive Director of Public Safety and Security. When employees contract an infectious disease that can be spread through casual contact, they should immediately report it to the Assistant Vice President of Human Resources, who is responsible for reporting it to the Executive Director of Student Support Resources. If the Human Resources office is closed, they should report it to the Executive Director of Public Safety and Security. Employees should also inform their supervisor or department chair.

When a child in the campus Child Care Center contracts an infectious disease, the Child Care Center Director should report it to the Executive Director of Student Support Resources and to the Vice President of Student Affairs. If the Executive Director of Student Support Resources is unavailable and the Student Affairs office is closed, the Child Care Center Director should report it to the Executive Director of Public Safety and Security.

The campus Public Safety and Security office should report cases involving students to the Vice President of Student Affairs, cases involving employees to the Assistant Vice President of Human Resources, and cases involving a child in the campus Child Care Center to the Executive Director of Student Support Resources and to the Vice President of Student Affairs.
